From the Curate: Practicing Hospitality

Hospitality is a favorite word in church circles these days. There are many gestures of courtesy and respect that we do here at Emmanuel that fall under the umbrella term "hospitality": wearing a name tag is a gesture of hospitality, as is introducing ourselves or showing someone around. Offering a loaf of home-baked bread to visitors and newcomers is an act of hospitality we practice here.

Preparing my sermon from the story of Martha and Mary gave me an opportunity to think about "radical hospitality," or "hospitality of the heart." The Incarnation is the most radical act of hospitality of all, and Jesus certainly practiced hospitality of the heart throughout his life. If we are to pattern our lives on that kind of hospitality, we will need to look beyond courtesy and good manners and think about how everything we do can either welcome or exclude the stranger, the poor, the Other.

Hospitality takes practice, and it has consequences. The Eucharist is a place where we both learn and practice hospitality. God welcomes us to a feast that he provides through his own flesh and blood, and through it He offers us an ongoing opportunity to be wholly transformed. When Eucharistic hospitality becomes a habit, we start asking questions of ourselves and of the world in which we live. We remember that the church is not ours, but God's, and act accordingly. We begin to ask if our public policies, both foreign and domestic, reflect our value of hospitality. We seek active ways to make our hearts and homes places of gracious welcome, even at the risk of being made uncomfortable, or being asked to change.

We can learn to welcome everyone as Christ.

It is said that St. Benedict transformed monasticism, and all of Western spirituality, through his emphasis on a balanced life and on the values of hospitality and community. But when Benedict first became a monk, he focused on withdrawal from the world; he started out as a hermit, living in a cave in isolation for three years. It was not easy for him to welcome the visitors who came to him for advice and encouragement. But over the years his attitude changed, and he founded monasteries that became the supreme example of Christian hospitality.

Most of us are probably not called to live as hermits for three years, or to spend significant portions of our lives in a monastic community. But no matter who we are, no matter our personality type or profession, silence and solitude have a place in our lives. Through them, and through practicing hospitality in community and in communion, we can learn to welcome everyone as Christ.

Faithfully,

Pamela+

Vestry Vibes

(Vestry Vibes is a regular addition to the Angelus. It is meant as a snapshot from 30,000 feet of what the Vestry is currently working on and key priorities.)

How many times have you heard the saying, “The older you get, the faster time seems to fly.”? I don't know if it's my age, but it hardly seems possible that we are already more than half way through 2010. One moment, we're celebrating Mardi Gras and preparing for Lent. In the blink of an eye, we're marking the beginning of summer with the Summer Solstice celebration. As this year races by, it won't be long before we find ourselves celebrating Homecoming and rushing quickly towards Advent.

We've also seen some big milestones this year: ordinations were held for both Pamela Dolan and Robert Ard, the space in our new building became available for use, and our mission trip participants traveled to places both near and far to give their time and talent to do God's work. And throughout the year, we've had opportunities to come together beyond our traditional worship services to have fun and to experience fellowship at events such as our All Parish Conference and MOE's Trivia Night, just to name a few.

As I reflect back on the first half of 2010, I feel very blessed to be a part of this very special parish family. And I wonder to myself, how many more people are out there seeking a place to worship? How many more are out there, looking for that special place where all are welcomed at God's table? Just a few short years ago, I was out there seeking a church that I could call 'home.' And I came to Emmanuel not by chance, but at the invitation of a friend.

Emmanuel had a different feeling; a warmth, an energy that seems to flow naturally from person to person.

We are very fortunate that Emmanuel is a vibrant parish. And often, as time flies by, we get caught up in the rhythm of our own lives and we forget that there are others out there who seek but who do not find. As a former 'seeker,' I remember feeling frustrated as I searched for a place of worship that really felt 'right' for me. Too often, I felt like a stranger in a foreign land as I attended different churches around the area. Even though I would attend the same church for a period of time and sit in the same spot, I was treated as a 'visitor,' someone who was politely welcomed, but not warmly embraced. Only when a friend who attended Emmanuel invited me to come worship here did I find what I was seeking. Emmanuel had a different feeling; a warmth, an energy that seems to flow naturally from person to person. And only because a friend cared enough to ask was I able to find my 'home.'

I am making my own pledge to be more active in helping others discover Emmanuel. In doing so, I am also appealing to the hearts and minds of all fellow 'Emmanuelites' to prayerfully consider reaching out and sharing the warmth of this very special place. There are so many people out there that are seeking, but not finding. During the course of your week, as you talk with friends and co-workers, ask them if they have a special place where they worship. If they tell you they don't attend church, invite them to join you on Sunday at Emmanuel. When they come with you, introduce them to those around you before and after the service. Before worship services begin, actively look around you to see if there are individuals that you don't recognize. If you see a face that you don't know, approach them and introduce yourself. Let them know that you are glad they are here. Tell them about upcoming events and invite them to join in. If you suddenly realize that someone you used to see regularly at worship service seems to have disappeared, reach out to them and invite them to reconnect. Consider joining the Attraction-Integration-Retention (AIR) Committee and help us uncover other ways to reach out and help seekers discover this special place that we call Emmanuel.

Emmanuel is too special to keep this all to ourselves. It's always the right time to extend the hand of fellowship and to invite others to worship with us. After all, there is always room at God's table for more.

Priest-in-Charge Evaluation Committee

As a part of our agreement with The Rev. Dan Appleyard, called as Emmanuel's Priest-in-Charge, the vestry established a committee to gather information and make a recommendation concerning the call for Dan to serve as Emmanuel's Rector. The group has met with Dan to develop the process for the review based on the expectations of the agreement. We continue to meet without Dan to consider his ministry among us. We'd like to remind you that we welcome any thoughts you have about the ministry of Dan as we discern the call for Dan to serve as Emmanuel's Rector.

Please contact by phone, e-mail, or in person any of the following: Dick Clark, Jerry Cooper, Margaret DeYoung, Bob Feldmann, Kathy Lorino, Ian MacBryde, Ann Marie Ruhlin or John Snodgrass.

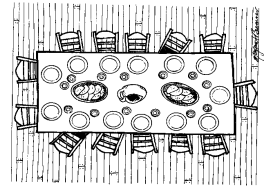

We are grateful for your participation and thank those who have already responded.

“Praying Creatively” A Weekend Retreat for Women

Offered by the Center for Spirituality; The Abbey Barn, New Harmony, Indiana

This weekend retreat focused on prayer will draw on the creative spark of God dwelling within each of us. The retreat time will center on that “creative spark” as a means to deepen and enhance our prayer life. Participants will have the opportunity to experience what it is to pray while walking a labyrinth, listening to music, playing with clay or paint, baking bread, or walking among sculptures in the historic, picturesque town of New Harmony, Indiana. (New Harmony is located approximately 150 miles east of St. Louis on Hwy. 64 – an easy 2.5 hour drive from downtown St. Louis.)

The retreat will be led by the Rev. Susan Skinner, an experienced retreat leader, and will be held in The Abbey Barn, a simplistic, monastic-like structure with small single rooms and communal bathrooms. The time will include input from the retreat leader, suggested creative activities, as well as times for silence and group reflections. A part of the creative process will be to help in the preparation of meals. Participants will enjoy the use of the New Harmony Inn grounds and facilities.

The retreat begins with registration and a simple supper at 5:00 p. m. on Friday, September 10, and concludes with a noon time Eucharist on Sunday, September 12. The $175 fee covers the cost of lodging for two nights, five meals and all materials. A $100 non-refundable deposit is necessary by August 15. (Please note the registration deadline has been extended.) The remaining $75 is due at the commencement of the retreat. In order to allow for individual rooms space is limited. For more information and/or to receive a registration form, contact the Rev. Susan Skinner at scskinner@charter.net or (314) 965-9155.

Fall Term for The Episcopal School for Ministry

The Episcopal School for Ministry comes together once a month for the shared work of forming disciples of Jesus for all the ministries of the baptized. The School’s programs are an opportunity for a deeper exploration of the Christian faith and life; students are encouraged to spend time intentionally discerning God’s call on them. The School provides guidance in the form of advisors, presentations, fellowship, and small group time, as well as the course work itself, as part of its mission to equip all members of the Church, lay and ordained, for ministry.

This is a school in the ancient Christian sense: a place, a gathering of the faithful, where Christ continues to teach his disciples. The School provides ways for the baptized to learn whom they follow, how to follow, and their ministries as followers.

You do not need to enroll in a three-year program in order to become a student at the School. You can sign up for a single course or even drop in for a Saturday presentation from time to time (if you only want to drop by, you should still contact the registrar so you can join us for a meal). The courses are offered across the street on the Eden campus.

If you are interested in signing up for one of the courses this fall, please contact the Rev. Beverly Van Horne, interim dean, or Cory Hoehn, registrar. Our parish is well-represented at ESM: the Rev. Rod Wiltse and Ron Crown are on faculty; Kevin McGrane and the Rev. Pamela Dolan are Board members. Many others in our parish have gone through programs there. Any one of the people listed above would be happy to discuss the School with you in more detail; you only have to ask!

The Fall Term dates are: August 21 (orientation); September 24-25; October 29-30; December 3-4; and December 18.

We will be moving furniture and doing some general light repairs. Mark your calendar and bring your tool box! Maybe we'll even have lunch together afterward. Free Classical Concert at Emmanuel Emmanuel Episcopal Church presents an evening of exquisite works for cello and piano performed by Russian-born cellist Alexei Romanenko and Canadian pianist Christine Yoshikawa, Tuesday, August 12th at 7:00 p.m. The exhilarating program will include works by Valentini, Stravinsky, Davidoff, Strauss, and more.

As soloists, their respective wide ranging recital and concerto repertoire have been applauded, and their international career includes performances in major cities throughout North America, Europe and Asia. They are also advocates for new music and dedicated pedagogues to a generation of young musicians, with current and past teaching positions at the University of British Columbia, Arizona State University, University of Florida, and Chipola College. Touring regularly throughout the United States and abroad, forthcoming duo engagements include a 20-city concert tour of the Midwest & New England.

For more information on the artists, visit www.alexeiromanenko.com and www.christineyoshikawa.com

Tuesday Mornings at Emmanuel

Morning Prayer is offered each week at 9:00 a.m. Everyone is invited. Tuesday Bible Study will resume on September 14 with The Revelation to John

We recommend as a summer read: The Power of the Lamb: Revelation's Theology of Liberation for You by Ward Ewing, retiring Dean of the General Theological Seminary. "This book is about power, or to be more precise, about the experience of being without power... Within the experience of powerlessness, I discovered the Book of Revelation, the record of God's people in their experience of powerlessness in the first century."

"This is a textually responsible and highly readable use of the Apocalypse of John as a sourcebook for the meaning of power in the individual and corporate lives of Christians." John Koenig.

The Tuesday Morning Bible study is open to any and all who wish to attend. We meet for approximately one (1) hour each week. Fr. Rod Wiltse will be our leader on this journey through the book of Revelation. One of the classic methods of Bible study, Lectio Divina, will be used occasionally when the particular text for the day seems to call for it. The African method of Bible study will also be used along with other methods as well. Two basic questions to be asked regarding all of the texts are:

What is God saying to the Church in this passage and how should we respond?
What is God saying to me in this passage and how will I respond?

PLEASE, come and join us! Bring a friend!

Thank you from Pamela Dolan

"We can only be said to be alive in those moments when our hearts are conscious of our treasures."
 Thornton Wilder

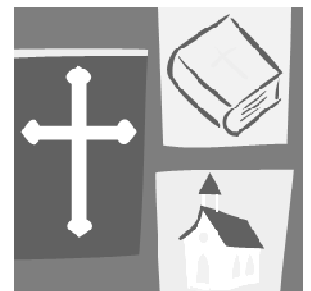

Dear Emmanuel Parish:

I can hardly find words to express how grateful I am to you for all the many gifts I received on the occasion of my ordination to the priesthood. The service itself was magnificent, and included many of you in it (and to those of you who could not be there because of the multiple mission trips that were happening at the same time—you were missed!). The reception was just beautiful...I hope someone has pictures of the cake, because it has to be seen to be believed! The purse that was collected was generous in the extreme, and some of you gave me additional personal gifts. It may take me an inexcusably long time, but I do hope to thank you all individually.

Most of all, I appreciate the expressions of congratulations and thanksgiving, both written and spoken, that I have received from many of you. It is an exquisite privilege to serve here as a priest. My heart is very conscious that vocation is a treasure, and that having a parish—a people among whom to live out and live into that vocation—is a priceless gift. I am so very glad you are that parish.

Blessings,

Pamela+

Sign up Now for Baptismal Instruction on Tuesday, August 10

Tuesday, August 10 will be Emmanuel's next baptismal preparation session. There won't be another session until October, so if you'd like your child baptized before then, be sure to register for the August 10 class. If you plan to attend, please contact Susie Feldmann in the parish office by Monday, August 2 (961-2393). Please be sure to let us know if you will be needing child care.

At least one parent must attend an evening session before their child can be baptized at Emmanuel. Grandparents are also invited, and Godparents are strongly encouraged to attend.

You do not have to set a baptismal date to come to a session. If you are pregnant or still deciding about baptizing your child here, please come to one of these sessions. They are a wonderful opportunity to learn more about baptism and to explore raising your child as a Christian, as well as a chance to get to know other parents in the parish.

The preparation sessions begin with dinner at 6:00 p.m. Child care will be available upon request; sessions run about 2½ hours. You need not attend the session closest to your child's baptismal date, just choose one that works with your schedule and is prior to the day you want to have your child baptized.

Upcoming baptismal dates are: August 15 at 10:00 a.m., September 19 at 9:00 a.m. & September 26 at 10:30 a.m.

If you are interested in baptism for an adult or older child, please contact the Rev. Pamela Dolan.
