Dear Friends,

In the next few weeks, the seasons of Epiphany and Lent meet one another on March 5th, Ash Wednesday. In the opening days of March, perhaps all of us might be challenged by this convergence and by the "balancing act" that God constantly calls us into.

In the Season of Epiphany, we are called into Mission, as all our recent Sunday readings remind us. This is the time when Jesus defines his mission and calls his disciples to get out into the world to join him in ministry. Lent is the season when we join Jesus in the wilderness of reflection – a time set aside by the Church for spiritual discipline and self-reflection. One season is a time of reaching out and the other is a time of reaching in. Someone once said that when Epiphany meets Lent, God's proclamation meet God's tears. Or put another way, their "meeting" is a time when the call to mission meets the call to listen.

Recently, I was asked to share some reflections at a dear friend's Burial. She was a woman who was passionate about both these aspects of the Christian Journey. When I first met her she was "into" the Christian mystic, Meister Eckhart (1260 – 1328). And, in the early days of our relationship we read and reflected on his approach to the Christian faith.

As I thought about our conversations together, I was reminded that Eckhart's practical communication of the mystical path to a life of Christian "holiness" inspired the people of his day and challenged the Church. His writings and his approach to faith are believed to have been formative to the publication of the anonymous 14th-century text, Theologia Germanica. In turn, that influential work, even without the "imprimatur" of the Church, shaped the history of the church for the next two centuries. Some believe that Eckhart's influence on German religious thought, and so on Martin Luther, was pivotal in provoking Luther's actions and the subsequent Protestant Reformation.

Some of the quotes (and a few more) that I shared at my friend's Burial Service, from Meister Eckhart's writings were these:

“What we plant in the soil of contemplation, we shall reap in the harvest of action.”

“A just person is one who is conformed and transformed into justice.”

“If the only prayer you ever say in your entire life is thank you, it will be enough.”

“The eye with which I see God is the same eye with which God sees me.”

“Every creature is a word of God.”

“The more we have the less we own.”

“God expects but one thing of you, and that is that you should come out of yourself in so far as you are a created being made and let God be God in you.”

“What a man takes in by contemplation, that he pours out in love.”

“Only the hand that erases can write the true thing.”

“The outward work will never be puny if the inward work is great.”

“You may call God love, you may call God goodness. But the best name for God is compassion.”

Remembering my friend in these closing days of Epiphany and as I face the opening days of Lent, my prayer is that you will find yourselves challenged by this convergence and by the "balancing act" that God constantly calls us to engage in. Listen to Jesus as he defines his mission and calls us out into the world join to him in ministry. And, embrace this coming Lent when we are asked to join Jesus in the wilderness of reflection. Embrace the time of reaching out and the time of reaching in. Let Epiphany meet Lent in your lives. Embrace God's proclamation and meet God's tears. And, let their "meeting" be a time when the call to mission meets the call to listen.

Peace,

Daniel

Many Emmanuelites worked on the clean-up, fix-up, paint-up of the diocesan property in Old North St. Louis, which became home to 7 young Episcopal Service Corps interns last August. The interns, all new college graduates, were assigned to various programs to assist and enable the poor in their neighborhood. Half way through the first year, Jon will fill us in on the program, the interns, and the future plans for Deaconess Ann House.

Tuesday Night Lenten Series

from March 11 to April 8 at 6:00 p.m.

In the Dining Room

Come for a potluck supper at 6:00 p.m. and then break into hour-long small groups for five weekly sessions. We'll conclude the evening with Compline (a brief prayer service) at 7:45 p.m. This is an opportunity to strengthen the ties of fellowship, while learning something new and contributing your own ideas and insights to the community.

The Small Group Topics Are:

1. Waging Racial Reconciliation

Led by the Rev. Daniel Appleyard

This five part series will include presentations, short videos reflections and ample time for discussion.

The resources include videos from the Episcopal Church two-day event forum, State of Racism In America. Another "tool" will be a series of "shorts" called "Cracking the Codes – The System of Racial Inequity." We will use these, as well as passages from Scripture and the Book of Common Prayer to enhance our conversation and as we talk about the system of racial inequity in the United States.

2. Saving the Cross: Reimagining the Atonement

Led by The Rev. Dr. Warren Crews

Lenten and Holy Week in particular are difficult for many because of the traditional way that the doctrine of the atonement has been taught:

God sent Jesus into the world to absorb the punishment on the cross that all of us deserve for our sins against God. People ask: what father would do such a horrendous thing to his beloved son?!

Well, it turns out that is only one of four different approaches to explaining the atonement.

We will explore each of these four, critique their strengths and weaknesses, and give everyone a chance to figure out for themselves how to explain God's saving work in Jesus Christ.

Inquirers' Class Sundays at 11:30*March 9 – April 6

- What are the most important things about being a Christian?
- Why do we come together for worship?
- What do we think about forgiveness?
- Why do we talk about social justice? And servant ministry?
- What does it mean to be a member of a church?

Join us for 5 weeks of exploration of how Episcopalians, and especially Emmanuel's leaders answer as you formulate answers for yourself, meet other Emmanuelites, old and new, and deepen your faith and your bonds to this community of faith.

Who should come?

- Anyone who is curious about the questions above?
- Anyone who is new to Emmanuel and would like to hear from our leaders.
- Anyone who is new to the Episcopal church and would like to learn more about our approaches.
- Anyone who would like to engage in thoughtful reflection about our shared faith.
- Anyone who is willing to make a weekly commitment to this Lenten exploration.

To sign up, or for more information, talk to Martha LaFata or the Rev. Martie Metzler.

Emmanuel Women's Book Club - Monday, March 3

Join us when we will discuss "Mrs. Lincoln's Dressmaker" by Jennifer Chiaverini.

Here's a short review from Booklist:

Chiaverini's latest is based on the true story of Elizabeth Keckley, who bought freedom from slavery for herself and her son and went on to become a well-known modiste in Washington. Keckley had a front-row seat to history: she dressed Washington's A-list, including Jefferson Davis' wife before they left DC, and, most intimately, Mary Todd Lincoln. Mrs. Lincoln is mercurial, scheming, extravagant, and troubled, but Elizabeth stands by her as she is lambasted in the press. Long stretches of battle history and descriptions of Lincoln's political rivals lag, while more time spent on Elizabeth's work with newly freed slaves in DC would have been welcome.

Still, Elizabeth Keckley is an admirable heroine—successful, self-made, and utterly sympathetic. Readers of the Elm Creek Quilt series who have enjoyed Chiaverini's narrative jaunts into Civil War and Underground Railroad history will be interested in Mrs. Lincoln's Dressmaker—and there is even a little bit of quilting in the story. This is also a good choice for readers of Christian historical fiction, as both Elizabeth's and Mr. Lincoln's faiths are important elements in shaping their characters.

We also decided on books to read this spring.....hostesses needed!

- March 31 - And God Said by Joel Hoffman (Non-fiction re: errors in Biblical translation)
- April 28 - Imperfectionists by Tom Rachman Vignettes of English newspaper reporters in Rome
- June 2 - Daughter of Persia by Sattareh Farmanfarmanian (Autobiography of 20th Century Iranian "princess.")

Please feel free to join us, and to invite friends, family, or other Emmanuelites to come with you and share our fellowship. If you have questions or wish to be removed from the Book Club email list, please contact Ann McReynolds at 314-960-0560 or ARMcR@arm-mra.com.

Hope to see you the evening of MARCH 3 at 7:00 in the Treehouse Room, as usual.... Happy Reading!
Ann

Alliance for Interracial Dignity Session “Cracking the Codes”

Thursday, February 27, 2014

Emmanuel Episcopal Church
9 South Bompart
Webster Groves, MO 63119

Overarching Goals:

- Coming Together as a Community and Growing Together as a Community
- Building community alliances with government, cultural/racial, and faith-based groups to create a sustained social justice partnership.

Emmanuel to Host Mission Group from Ohio Wesleyan University
March 8 - 15

Ten students and two faculty members from Ohio Wesleyan University will be the first group to stay for a whole week at Emmanuel while they do mission work at St. Louis Crisis Nursery in March.

In the long process of planning the Behold Addition, we dreamt this day would come (one of the main reasons we put showers in the lower level). With Mission being so important to who we are at Emmanuel, how awesome to be able to support a group from afar that is working in our community— hopefully helping to make their time here as comfortable and hassle-free as possible so they can focus on their mission.

Clark Hotaling is coordinating with the Ohio Wesleyan group along with Dan and Sue Baseley. If you would like to help with hospitality while the group is here, please contact the office for more information.

A Story of Love

In December, I was at Emmanuel in a meeting with the other two kitchen witches (Susie Feldmann and Mary Jane Kuhn) and Maureen Walsh, presently Parish Family Life director.

I just happened to mention that I was to undergo a MOHS treatment to remove a basil cell carcinoma from my nose and the logistics were my main concern. The immediate, and almost simultaneous, response was, “Mike will take you.” from Maureen and “I’ll take you.” from Mary Jane. I was so touched by their concern. And – even more – I knew it was sincere.

As I said, logistics were the problem. But we worked it out that Mary Jane could be on call from noon on – she was busy preparing for the chili supper in the morning – and she would fix Rick's schedule so that he could come along with her and drive our car home. And that's exactly what they did.

I was told to ice the area and remove the bandage in 24 hours. The next morning found me with eyes swollen almost shut and dried blood on the bandage, which Judd and I feared was stuck to the incision and that we do some damage when removing it. Judd called Katherine Ziegler and she responded immediately.

Now the Kuhns did not give us this help because they really had nothing else to do. And Katherine did not come over because she is our Parish Nurse. They came because we are all friends. We've worked together, prayed together, cried together and laughed together. We are all part of a wonderful family. That family is Emmanuel.

What a blessing!

Marie Holt

Stewardship

The Stewardship Committee was formed in 2012 with the idea that its task would be to increase the parish's awareness of how our financial and spiritual lives interact. One of the ideas the Committee developed was to have regular articles in The Angelus that reflect the many, many ways in which our dollars go to work here at Emmanuel—to show, in essence, the many ways in which God's work gets done. This month's article is by Shari Kelts and focuses on Martha's Meals.

"Rich in Love." Really, who can doubt how true that is of Emmanuel? One aspect of our loving stewardship may not be familiar to many of you, unless you are part of the team of providers or have received their help: Martha's Meals. But for those who have been ill, had surgery, had a baby, or experienced other stressful life events, Martha's Meals have been a blessing. As a recent recipient told me: "Until now, I thought, 'oh, well, that's a nice thing to do for those people,' but now that I've had them myself, I know that they're wonderful!"

What she was talking about, and what others in the parish have experienced, is not just the help it is to have good food to eat that you don't have to prepare yourself (usually with leftovers as well)----although that is of course a good thing when you are ill---but also the joy of seeing a new face when you can't get out of the house, and perhaps of getting to know someone you haven't met or haven't talked to before. You know that you are part of the family of Emmanuel, and that your family is taking care of you.

And taking part in Martha's Meals is also a blessing for those who provide the food that is delivered, whether by cooking it themselves or purchasing it. It is a joy to see how pleased the recipients are, as well as to talk with them and get to know them, or get to know them better than before.

So both the givers and the receivers of Martha's Meals are blessed, leaving both "rich in love."

Contact for Martha's Meals, either for needs or to volunteer to be a meal provider, is Shari Kelts, at 314-601-1638 or email [sharikelts@sbcglobal.net]

Junior High News

At 9 A.M. on February 2, as the congregation sang the processional hymn, they were given a glimpse of the lifeblood of Emmanuel as more than 35 junior and senior high youth and youth leaders followed the cross to the front of the church.

Junior high kids served as ushers and greeters; two of them read the prayers of the people which they had written the week earlier; and they all joined in the singing of the anthem. Five of the senior high members delivered sermons which told of their growth and how Emmanuel had been a strong positive influence. They spoke clearly and concisely and delivered very moving testimonials.

After the service, Joanne Warren, a long-time and very active Emmanuel parishioner, stopped me to say how much she had been moved by the ceremony and asked about bringing her granddaughter, Anna, to Junior High. The following Sunday, we met Anna and she seemed excited about coming back next week to help with the brown-bag lunches for the homeless shelter and later participating in a trip with both junior and senior high kids as they have a fun day of laser tag and pizza.

On February 9, we had a successful spaghetti dinner fundraiser despite the snow which started early in the afternoon. Every last bit of tiramisu was scraped out of the pans. And all who left seemed pleasantly full of good food. Junior High wants, once again, to thank Emmanuel and all the parishioners who help and support them through the years.

On March 2, we will meet at Emmanuel to carpool to Christ Church Cathedral for group worship, a tour of the building and then lunch.

On March 5, we will serve at the Ash Wednesday soup dinner, which is the start of the Lenten season.

And, of course, each Sunday we will continue to meet for Rite 13 in our classroom to share thoughts and prayers and feelings as we grow in our faith and understanding. Who knows? One day Anna Warren or another of our teenagers might deliver a very moving sermon from Emmanuel's pulpit.

SR HI PLANS RETREAT, VISIT TO LACLEDE

Senior High leaders are completing plans for the upcoming Spring Retreat, scheduled for February 21-22 at Camp Mihaska in Bourbon, Missouri. In the recent past the spring retreats have focused on preparations for the summer mission trips.

“A couple of years ago,” said Youth Director Kevin Williams, “we spent a lot of time trying to accustom ourselves to the problems of the homeless, allocating inadequate resources to solve the problems of staying warm and fed, in preparation for our trip to Chicago. We learned a lot.”

“This year,” he went on, “we’ll be thinking a lot about how to understand the problems of Native American youth, as we begin to plan our trip to Standing Rock Reservation in South Dakota in June.”

In the meantime, the youth will also be visiting Laclede Retirement Community in order to spend some time with some of the residents there. “We will be visiting some of the residents who are not as functional as they once were, either mentally or physically,” said JoAn MacBryde, senior high leader, who has been instrumental in planning the visit. “I think it is a great event for everyone, the youth and those whom we visit.”

Later that afternoon, the senior high youth will prepare a dinner for a volunteer group from Ohio Wesleyan University, who will be staying at Emmanuel while working at the St. Louis Crisis Nursery on their spring break. Said Sarah Aiello, one of the most active of the Emmanuel group, “I’m always enthusiastic about helping out, and it will be interesting serving people around the same age as me. I also hope I can learn from them what it is like to volunteer in college, since that is something I look forward to doing next year.”

Ian MacBryde

The plan for our hour of discussion will be to pray the Collect for the Sunday. We will then read the lessons appointed—Hebrew Scripture (in English), the Psalm, the Epistle and the Gospel. We ask you to bring pen and paper so that as each lesson is read you can note those things that you hear which strike you. Everyone will be given opportunity to share their notes from the readings and then the floor will be opened for discussion.
