Oscar Romero, a Saint for Good Friday

As I write this article, thousands of people are gathered around the world, commemorating the 35th anniversary of the martyrdom of Monsignor Oscar Romero, Archbishop of El Salvador who appears in our calendar of Holy Women and Holy Men on March 24.

Romero was appointed archbishop because he was seen as loyal to the traditional Catholic hierarchy, which was funded by the 14 prominent Salvadoran families of the oligarchy, and therefore supportive of the status quo. His appointment displeased the majority of the priests of the country, whom after Vatican II, had begun to preach liberation theology, and to stand with the landless poor of the country in demanding reforms.

Romero surprised them, however. He later said that witnessing firsthand the suffering of the poor, changed his way of thinking. He also said that increasing government violence against socially committed priests and laity undermined his trust in the good will of the authorities and led him to fear that both the church and religion were under attack. It was the assassination of Jesuit Father Rutilio Grande, Romero’s longtime friend, on March 12, 1977, that brought a stinging denunciation from the archbishop. He suspended Mass in San Salvador’s churches the following Sunday and demanded the responsible parties be punished. They were not.ⁱ

During the popular weekly radio broadcast of his sermon, Romero regularly read names of those who’d been murdered, tortured and disappeared. The day prior to his assassination, he implored Salvadoran soldiers, as Christians, to obey the rule of God over the military dictatorship and stop carrying out its policies of repression and human rights violations.ⁱⁱ

Romero knew his days were numbered as he boldly spoke out against the evils of the system which the Roman Catholic hierarchy protected. He said, “If the kill me, I will rise up again among my people.” Following the example of Jesus, Romero spoke Truth to the Powers that could order his assassination. And they did.

On March 24, 1980, a rifleman of the government death squads shot him in the heart while he celebrated a funeral Mass in the chapel on the grounds of a cancer hospital where he lived, but as he predicted, his spirit lived on among his people. The assassination of the beloved “voice of the voiceless” was a key factor in rallying the masses of poor in the civil war against the tyrannical oligarchy.

Every year, as we head into Holy Week, I dread the hours I will have to confront Jesus’ suffering on the cross. As Holy Week progresses, we see it coming again; the unarmed Jesus excoriating the Temple authorities and the masters of the Empire; coming up against the ruthless powers of this world. How could anyone willingly face into the torturous death that he knew would ensue if he continued to speak against systems of oppression and domination, and to lift up the poor, the humble, and the outcast?

Jesus, persisted, knowing that after he was killed, he would rise up again. His vindication has given superhuman strength and will to followers like Romero around the world; given them courage to risk all as he did for God’s Kingdom and God’s people.

On Good Friday, we come to the cross, not to glorify the cross, symbol of the power of death, but to worship the one who triumphed over it, who promises us that Death is not the last word; who is with us in spirit through every ordeal and test.

It is hard for me to really take in the cross during Holy Week. But saints like Oscar Romero show me the power there. At the foot of the cross on Good Friday we can see the power of evil in our world, and on the empty, flowered cross of Easter Day, we see God’s glorious triumph over that evil.

On May 23 this year, Romero will be “beatified” by the Roman Catholic Church. To Christians and human rights workers around Central America, he is a model and hero, referred to as “The Saint of America.” His ubiquitous image is raised up among his people on buildings, tree trunks and bill boards throughout El Salvador.

May walking with Jesus this Holy Week, also give us courage to be bold for God’s Kingdom.

About the Parish Family

The sympathy of the parish is extended to the family and friends of long time parishioner, Judd Holt who passed away on March 22.

May light perpetual shine upon him.

When the Divine Consumes You

When the Divine Door opens to you
 When His Grace overwhelms you
 When His Wine overflows your cup
 When His Pure Love fills you up
 When you can feel inside, His Presence
 When every thing, is a site for His Presence
 Your dewdrop existence expands in His Ocean
 As a rain-drop dissolves in the waves of a vast ocean

Cleaning at the Church

As of Monday, March 23th, we have contracted with Webster University to provide our cleaning services using their vendor, Sodexo. They have been providing supplemental cleaning of our facilities since the beginning of February, and we have been pleased with their work. This agreement will mean that like the cleaning of any commercial office building, the direct supervision of those working on our site will be provided by Sodexo. We, instead, will meet regularly at the beginning of each week, in order to co-ordinate our cleaning needs with Sodexo’s management team. Currently, the plan is that they will be on site from 6 AM to 2:30 PM Monday through Friday. The presence of additional part-time sextons, for other tasks (e.g. set ups, dishwashing, light bulb replacements, yard work, etc.) are still in the midst of negotiation. So, this is a “developing story.”

Adult Forum, April 12

Just as our family homes hold items that are meaningful and beautiful to us, so too does our faith home. Sara Loyet will tell us about the art objects in the church and our new acquisitions.

On the night before he was handed over to die, Jesus took his disciples to pray in the Garden of Gethsemane. Jesus asked them to stay awake with him "one hour" while he faced what he knew he must do on our behalf the next day.

At Emmanuel, we endeavor to keep our Lord company in his hour of anguish by keeping watch in our own chapel all night, beginning at 9:00 p.m. and breaking our vigil on Good Friday morning.

If you would like to help with the event, please let me or the co-chairs know, the more the merrier!

FLOWERING THE CROSS

Emmanuel has a tradition of bringing blooms from our home gardens to church on Easter Sunday morning to "flower the cross."

Cut as many stems as you'd like from your garden and bring them on Easter morning.

The flower cross will be outside the church awaiting your blooms, and we will have parishioners on hand to assist you.

The cross will remain outside in front of the church throughout the day and also on Easter Monday as a beautiful reminder of Christ's glorious resurrection.

Inquirers Classes

Interested in learning more about the Christian faith from the perspective of the Episcopal Church tradition?

Explore the basic promises of Christian Life. Each week two members of our parish will speak to the class about their journey in living into one of the promises made at Baptism, as individuals, and through ministries of Emmanuel. The clergy and class facilitator, Martha LaFata, will lead discussions to help us all think about how we respond to those promises.

This is a great way to enter more fully into our life together, or to prepare for baptism or confirmation. In the course of 5 weeks, you will get to know the clergy, parish leaders, other newcomers, and some of the opportunities to grow and serve in our community of faith. All are welcome, and newcomers are especially encouraged to attend.

"Vacation Bible School is here, tra la, tra la, tra la.

The happiest days of all the year, tra la, tra la, tra la.
In God's own house, we like to be,
a happy, merry band are we.
Vacation Bible School is here, tra la , tra la, tra la!"

I learned that song about fifty years ago (wow!) and it still comes to mind when I hear the letters VBS. Vacation Bible School was a two week event for the kids in my church back then. As I look back today at the amount of volunteerism time that went into that event, I'm amazed, and I wish I could go back and say "thank you" for the impact that it made on my life, even though I didn't realize it at the time. I still remember Bible verses that we were encouraged to memorize. I can still remember the excitement of "Attention, Draw swords" and then a Bible verse was identified and we would race to see who could find it in the Bible the fastest and read it aloud! I can remember sweet KoolAid and homemade cookies and crafts, lots and lots of crafts--oh the glue and popsicle sticks that we went through! There were great friendships formed there and important life lessons that were taught.

If you would like to be a part of an event like this for our children, please volunteer some time for this year's Vacation Bible School. Unlike the "old days", it's a three day event scheduled for Wednesday through Friday, May 27th through 29th. We are again partnering with Christ Lutheran Church, who will be hosting the event this year. There are so many opportunities to help on each of the three days from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. You can volunteer to shepherd a group of kids from center to center, become a storyteller for the day to help a Bible story come alive, assist little hands in creative activities during crafts, make music, or help serve snacks but most importantly, you will possibly be shaping memories and young people's lives as you model the theme "Gratitude--Service for a Gracious God". If you'd like to volunteer in any way or any amount of time, feel free to contact me at penroseduo@att.net or 314 968-0034 and I'll get you in touch with the planning committee.

Thanks,
Pam Penrose

VESTRY VIBES

During the vestry retreat at the end of February, the group spent considerable time discussing our expectations as vestry members and also what we think the parish believes our roles are or should be. As a result of that discussion, we developed specific goals for this year. At our meeting on March 16, we refined the goals and are moving ahead to address them.

Our main goal involved communication. How can the Vestry, leadership of the Parish, clergy and staff – those involved in the many ministries of the parish – communicate best with the parish? Are we encouraging members of the parish to express their thoughts and feelings? A subcommittee of 5 vestry members will meet to discern recommendations to present at the April vestry meeting.

Other goals involve helping parishioners get more connected to each other, including intergenerational activities. We will also actively support the team already in place to celebrate Emmanuel's 150th anniversary, and we will try to find ways to increase support for the many mission and outreach activities in the parish.

We acknowledged that the main responsibility of the vestry lies in the secular requirements of the parish – approving and monitoring the budget and the requirements of the physical plant. We sometimes have the opportunity to address more lofty matters, for example, approving the use of same gender blessings at Emmanuel and adopting a resolution in support of the Interfaith Partnership statement last fall in response to the demonstrations in Ferguson.

As always, your vestry is interested in hearing from you! Please feel free to contact any of us to share your ideas about our common parish life.

From the Desk of the Accountant

I am not sure if you were aware of an available tax credit for contributors from the Missouri Department of Revenue. They have a program called the Food Pantry Tax Credit (FPT). This credit stipulates that any taxpayer (individual, corporation, or trust) that makes a donation of cash or food supplies to a food pantry may receive a credit of up to $2,500 per taxpayer per year. The taxpayer may take a credit of 50% of their donations.

If you wish to take advantage of this credit for the 2014 tax year, please contact me by email (atreas@emmanuelepiscopal.org) and I can prepare and forward the MO-FPT to you. The documentation required: Name of the Food Pantry, the dates and amounts of donations, and the name of the person making the donation.

Contact me on Mondays or Thursdays if you have any other questions.

Thank you for your commitment to the Emmanuel Food Center.
