As the flowers begin to bloom, and the birds begin to sing, and the charcoal grills put forth smoke signals that say, “Spring is here,” I find myself asking the very same question that a middle-eastern lawyer asked Jesus over 2,000 years ago...

“Who is my neighbor?”

My husband Chris and I are fairly new to our very old neighborhood in the city of St. Louis. And recently, I have noticed that we do not spend as much time with our neighbors as we would like. Since moving into our little home in July, we have managed to make friendly connections with only five households on our street. We all wave hello and exchange pleasantries in the driveway, and are just generally kind to one another. But pleasantries aside, I now realize, I don’t really know any of my neighbors. I don’t know where they grew up, or what their favorite foods are. I don’t know their children’s names or what they do for work. I might be willing to ask a few of them for a cup of sugar, but with Schnucks just down the street, I’m given an easy out. And now, as I sit on my front steps, or walk Teil in his stroller down the street, I wonder to myself, “who is my neighbor?”

I imagine some of you may be in the same boat. Even if you have lived in the same house for fifty years, some of your neighbors have probably changed. If you are lucky, you have made life-long friendships with even just a few of those who live around you.

But if you are like me, and you find that you don’t really know your neighbors, I encourage you to join me, as the weather begins to warm, and the sun begins to set later in the day, in getting to know your neighbors. We can connect one by one, by reaching out, by way of a kind gesture or friendly words of care. Maybe you have eggs to share or fresh cut flowers that could adorn their kitchen table. Maybe you could walk your kids to school together or have a cup of coffee on the deck on a lazy Saturday morning. Whatever the venue, spend time with them, get to really know them, so that pleasantries become friendships and small-talk becomes worthwhile conversation.

After all, we can't love our neighbors if we don't even know who they are.

That is our call, isn't it? To love God, and to love our neighbor as ourselves. Of course, there are many ways to be faithful to this commandment and many metaphors that extend the title of neighbor beyond our zip code. But just for now, I want you to think simple. Think local. Let's start with the neighbors with whom we share a fence. With our neighbors who's dog barks when we go out to get the mail. Let's start with those who are very near, so that later, together, we can go beyond our street to love our neighbors far away. God's dream of unity is found in the vision of togetherness, a heavenly city where all are known and loved. May your neighborhoods be a small reflection of that heavenly city today and always.

Sincerely,

Rev. Melanie Slane

FaithQuest News

On Saturday May 2nd at 10:30 AM, all FaithQuest children are invited to join a Mission Trip to Gateway 180 to serve lunch, meet the residents and spend time playing with the children. We will meet at Emmanuel, travel together to Gateway 180 and return to Emmanuel by 2 PM.

In the past this trip has happened on a Sunday. However, we've been asked to change the day of the week to accommodate the needs of their residents.

If your child or family is interested in joining us for the Mission Trip, please email Tricia Copeland at copelandtl@hotmail.com or call 314-283-5012.

Episcopal City Mission's (ECM) annual fundraiser Summer Celebration is quickly approaching!

This year's event will take place at Grace Episcopal Church in Kirkwood on Friday, June 19th. In 2014, ECM added a carnival theme to Summer Celebration in order to make the event more family friendly. Thanks to groups from CSMSG, Grace, Ascension & St. Barnabas, Deaconess Anne House, Holy Communion, and St. Peter's, Summer Celebration 2014 was a huge success and ECM would like to continue this theme for 2015.

There will be food, booths with games, prizes, an auction, and fellowship with the diocesan community! Because ECM is an organization that works with youth, the staff is seeking the involvement of youth groups and their leaders around the Diocese for the event. You are cordially invited to have your youth group design and host a carnival booth at Summer Celebration! If it seems too daunting to host a booth by yourself, consider joining forces with another church! The booth can be any carnival game your youth group desires, but ECM has a list of ideas if needed. The youth of the Diocese would have the ability to receive service hours while working for a cause that seeks to further the opportunities for young people not too different from themselves—and have fun in the process!

Please consider working collaboratively with this great organization on their summer fundraiser. RSVP by April 30th to Rhonda Choflet at citymission@sbcglobal.net. If you are interested or would like more information, please do not hesitate to contact the ECM office at 314-436-3545.

Environmental Stewardship

The parish family gets a big thank you for supporting environmental stewardship efforts! Everyone has gotten in the habit of using the blue recycle bins in all the buildings and the compost buckets in the kitchen. So what happens to all those fruit and vegetable scraps, coffee grounds and tea bags? Environmental Committee members collect the full buckets and deposit the contents in home compost tumblers and piles where they turn into lovely rich compost for gardening.

We could use a few more collection buckets. If you have some empty plastic cat litter buckets with lids please drop them off in the alleyway just outside the kitchen door.

We could also use more folks to take a turn taking the kitchen scraps to their home compost pile. If you could help out (even just occasionally) please contact Megan Wren at wrenme@yahoo.com.

Happy Gardening!

WEBSTER-ROCK HILL MINISTRIES SUMMER CAMP SPONSOR AND VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

For 21 years the Ministries has offered a camp experience to children ages 5-12 that provides meals, is within walking distance from home, that bridges the educational gap between academic years and provides experiences outside their community. The opportunity to transition from campers to junior counselors is offered to teenagers.

Funding for the camp comes from grant providers and donations from individuals, churches and other organizations. The budget for this year is $14,500 and funding assistance for the Camp Director, Asst. Director, individual camper or camp supply expenses is needed. Camp dates are June 8 thru July 24, 2015

Volunteers are also needed for field trips/ swimming, reading to the children, cooking projects, providing lunches and just to help where needed.

For more information contact WRHM Director
Ed Johnson at 314-961-5082

Jr. High News

Although JrHi has not had an article in the Angelus for a while, do not count us out. There was spring break, followed by Palm Sunday and then Easter. All these things either superseded Rite 13 or it wasn't very well attended. Nevertheless, we have had two brown bag sessions, we have talked about prayer and its results, they watched a film about Jesus' crucifixion and we have talked about the importance of worshipping together. There has been a meeting with parents of the youngsters preparing for the mission trip. And the kids and some of the leaders got together for an afternoon of bowling.

All in all, it has been a busy and interesting spring.

From the Parish Nurse

"Isn't it cold in here?", whispered the woman to her pewmate who was rapidly fanning herself with her bulletin. So often, our internal thermostats don't coincide with the temperature in the church or dining room. To help keep us comfortable, the Caring Committee is collecting gently used, washable, cardigan sweaters, shawls, and light jackets. If you can donate something, Hang them on the turquoise hangers in either the sanctuary closet or in the dining room. All sizes are needed. They will be available to anyone whose thermostat is malfunctioning!

AED-CPR Training

It is that time again, renewal of the AED-CPR certificates.

Jai-Jai is making a return visit to renew our certifications for this miracle machine. Class will be held on Sat., June 6, 9 AM sharp until we all finish (1 PM at the latest), in the dining room. A gift from a parishioner has made it possible to again offer this class for only $10.00 per person. Sign up sheets are on the bulletin board outside the food center or you may call the church office.

Solea Water Ingathering

The shoe drive sponsored by the Missions Committee collected 298 pairs of shoes to send to Solea Water. On Friday April 17 a Solea Water representative picked up the shoes.

Solea Water shoe drives are crucial not only for financing their programs, including the construction of water projects and sanitation education, but also for reminding the world that a little recycling and reuse can have a meaningful impact on people's lives all across the world. Not only do the shoes financially support Solea Water, but they support micro-businesses in developing countries and keep the shoes out of landfills by giving the shoes a second life on someone else's feet.

We will discuss Bel Canto, a 2001 novel by Ann Patchett, which was awarded both the Orange Prize for Fiction and PEN/Faulkner Award for Fiction.

The name "Bel Canto" means "beautiful singing" in Italian, and it identifies a type of early 19th century Italian opera known for its lyricism and vocal virtuosity...think Rossini, Donizetti, and Bellini. This book set in an unnamed South American city relates how a group of terrorists and their hostages cope with living together in a house for several months. As the book title suggests, opera is used in the story to draw the characters together, since one of the main characters is a world famous opera singer.

Vestry Vibes

Highlights from tonight's Vestry meeting:

If you read last month's Vestry Vibes, you may recall that at February's Vestry Retreat we agreed that one of our main objectives for the upcoming year is to look into ways to enhance communication within the Parish. A subcommittee has already met to begin the discussion. Their first meeting focused mainly on outgoing forms of communication, primarily the Angelus Newsletter and how both the online and paper versions might be improved to facilitate ease of reading. They are also considering methods to encourage input from you and how to ensure the right lay leader, clergy or staff member hears you.

Another concern that emerged at the Retreat was that of "Missing People" – you know, the lady who used to sit behind you at church but who has been absent of late. Nobody is taking attendance (thank goodness!) but sometimes a person will "go missing" for an extended period of time. We are all guilty of noticing the empty space but perhaps not realizing that we need to take the additional step of checking on the welfare of our missing friend. To that end, another committee, independent of the Vestry, has been formed to develop the means to identify who those missing persons might be and how best to extend a hand to those who desire one.

A cleaning service, Sodexo, has been contracted to fulfill most sexton duties: Phillip is here full time, keeping our building sparkling during the week while our part time sexton, Audrey fills in on Sundays and some Saturdays as needed.

UNITED THANK OFFERING
Ofrenda Unida de Accion de Gracias

"OUR CHANGE CHANGES LIVES"

The United Thank Offering is a practice of giving thanks for our many blessings in life. Each time you say "I love my friends", "I love my family", "I love my neighbor", and "I love my life", put a coin in the Blue Box. This is the way to resurrect ourselves and practice love and generosity to our neighbors.

The Blue Box monies are converted and given as grants to all those neighbors. The love that comes from this joyful giving is a ripple effect throughout the world helping others to love and resurrect themselves daily.
