Crunch, crunch, crunch. It’s hard to journey through autumn and not be completely wrapped up in the beauty of the trees. As the leaves crunch under our feet and the soft wind turns them into colorful mist that falls from on high, we are mesmerized by the strength and beauty of the trees as they handle change with such grace.

Yesterday they were fresh and green, and now they settle in for the harsh winter ahead.

Trees are central to life. They provide oxygen and food, materials for our homes and educations, they hold the ground in place and provide homes for many of God’s most beautiful creatures.

Recently, I realized that the trees have much to teach us about our own selves, about our humanity, about the changes and chances of this life, and our ability to withstand the harsh realities that may come our way.

“They are like trees planted by streams of water, bearing fruit in due season, with leaves that do not wither; everything they do shall prosper.” –Psalm 1, v3

Martie will get a notice on her cell phone.

A former seminary professor once described the strength of the trees in a sermon he preached about the The Bio-Sphere 2 project of Arizona that was established in 1991. The Bio-Sphere 2 is an Earth systems science research facility which serves as a center for research, outreach, teaching, and lifelong learning about Earth, its living systems, and its place in the universe. Basically, it is a huge dome-like structure, which simulates the Earth’s eco-system, allowing scientists to research what affects certain human processes have on our environment.

One of the greatest learnings from this project, Dr. Gortner pointed out, came from a big mistake. After the dome was completed and the plants and trees were put in, everything began to grow as expected, but a few months later, the scientists realized that something odd was happening.

The trees were all beginning to grow with a light bend toward the middle of the dome, some were beginning to grow so hunched over that the soil underneath could not hold their weight and they were ripped from the ground. The scientist went through a series of tests and trials to find out why the trees were so limp and droopy, and what they found was quite amazing.

They had forgotten a very important factor in the Earth's natural biosphere... Wind.

"In the beginning when God created the heavens and the earth, the earth was a formless void and darkness covered the face of the deep, while a wind from God swept over the face of the waters." –Genesis 1:1-2

Without the wind, the trees were not able to grow strong. They were not able to stand on their own without any sort of opposing force to strengthen them.

And so it is with us. The winds of our lives, the changes and chances, the harsh realities which press upon us can be what strengthens us. We can be like the trees, which grow in the face of opposition and handle change with the grace apparent in autumn. We can be like the trees if we welcome the wind.

Sincerely,

Melanie Shaw

Annual Food Center Ingathering

The month of November is the annual parish ingathering for 2015 Thanksgiving Basket Items. Parishioners are asked to place food items that will contribute to a Thanksgiving meal in the baskets provided in the narthex each Sunday morning. Your generosity will do much to improve the holiday for needy families in the community.

Additionally, the annual College School Ingathering in support of the Emmanuel Food Center will take place on Friday, November 20 from 9-11 a.m. in the dining room.

The children walk from College School along Big Bend with wagon loads of food collected at their school for our Food Center.

Please consider volunteering to assist in this heartwarming event, even if you can only spend an hour. Much work can be accomplished with many hands. It is an experience you will not forget.

Emmanuel's Support of African Seminarians.....

At the September 20th Mission Committee meeting Jim Groetsch submitted a proposal for $2,000 to fund a ministry with African Anglican/Episcopal priests in the International Student Program at Eden Seminary. The Committee approved the proposal.

African Anglican/Episcopal seminarians enrolled in master of theological studies program at Eden Seminary usually arrive in St. Louis lacking adequate financial resources to get them through their programs. This proposal requests funds to help them meet these needs. The initial funding for the seminarian project was funded by the Men of Emanuel, and these funds have subsequently been folded into the Mission Committee. The requested funds would be administered by the Reverend Warren Crews in consultation with Rector Daniel Appleyard. The uniqueness of this proposal is that we will be assisting in the world wide ministry of Christ in a direct and meaningful way.

Over the past six years, beginning with Reverend Stephen Dokolo, followed by the Revs. Isaiah Cham-bala, Agripa Ndaltilo, Fred Chingwaba, Timothy Chiboti, and now Bethuel Mlula and Anderson Madimilo, several of us have the privilege of knowing these seminarians first hand and their immediate needs.

At times, seminarians have participated in the liturgy of the church, made presentations for the Adult Forum, and have been an integral part of the MOE Bible Studies on Thursday mornings. The fruits of our assistance can already be seen: two have become bishops, one is dean of a cathedral, and another is the head of a theological college!

Our Newest Seminarian is The Rev. Canon Anderson Robert Madimilo from Tanzania.
Anderson recently shared with us the following introducing himself:

My name is Anderson Robert Madimilo from Tanzania, which is in East Africa. I am married to Mary, and God has blessed us with three children. The first born is a girl, her name is Elizabeth (24). The second born is called Robert (22) and our last born is David. Elizabeth completed her nursing training last year, and she is waiting for employment from the Government where she has applied. Robert is still in college and David is also still in High school. My wife is a nurse employed by the Government.

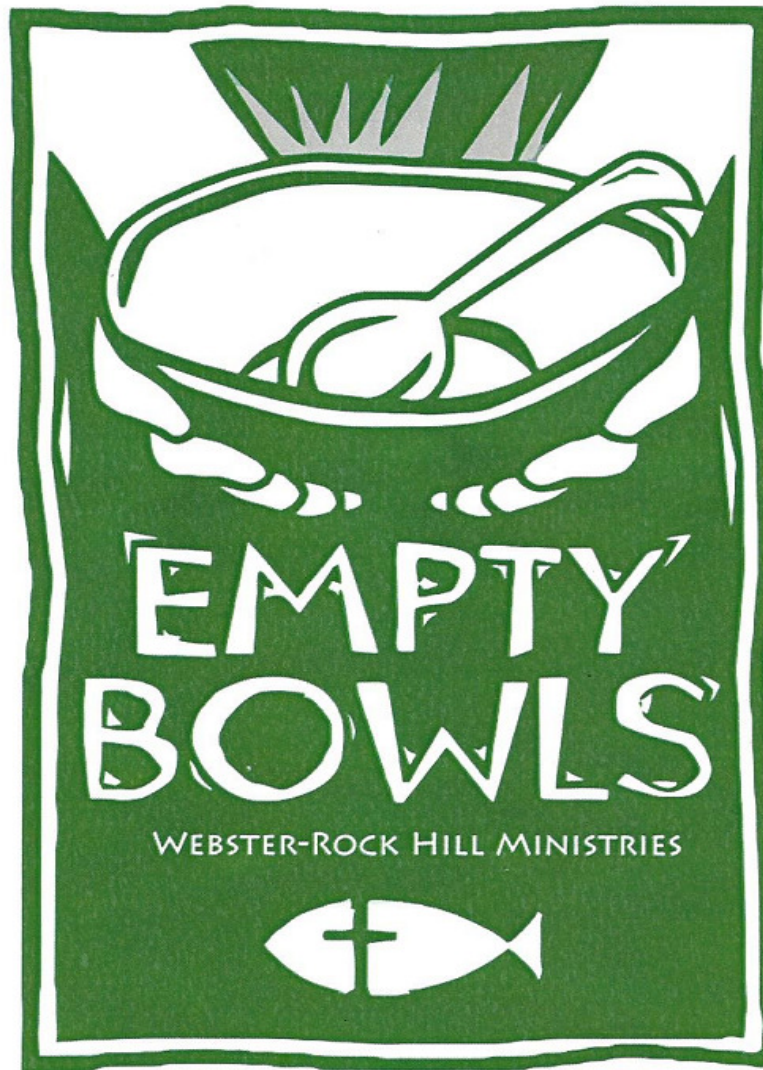

I came to have personal experience with Jesus in 1982. Although I was born and raised in a Christian home, I had never encountered a personal experience with God. Since that year I came to realize that God wanted me to do more in His ministry, and at that time I joined our Bible school in order to have a deeper understanding of His word.

In 1998 I officially started working in the church as a Church Army officer. From that time I have been working in different places including attending different levels of theology studies. From 1997-2000 I attended three years of Diploma Studies at St. Phillip's theological college. In 2008-2011, I completed my BA in Theology at St John's University of Tanzania.

Since 2011, I have been working as a Dean at All Saints Cathedral. I thank God that since He has called me, I have experienced many spiritual and physical blessings. One thing which excited me is the future hope of eternal life which will be given to all who have sacrificed their lives for his sake. I am very happy to be here at Eden Seminary where God has brought us and made us one, regardless of our background differences. We feel very much loved and cared for. Thank you much for how you are making us feel more at home, especially for the studying, learning, and meditating o the word of God together on Thursday morning. That has been great.

Yours In Christ,
 Anderson.

ALTAR GUILD LINENS.....a special opportunity!

The Altar Guild held their annual meeting on October 5. We have been very aware for some time that we were in need of new linens (purificators and corporals) which are used at every Eucharist. A suggestion was made that many members of the Altar Guild would like to donate for linens in memory of those we have lost this year, including Karen James, who was a member of the Altar Guild, and her husband Tom and for also Eleanor Fletcher.

Katherine Ziegler had already done the footwork for identifying alternate places to purchase these linens instead of the "big linen" companies. It was decided that we would purchase these linens from a woman in Chicago (Susanna Taylor) who started a co-op business 10 years ago for 6 women in Haiti who learned their embroidery skills in schools run by the French colonials. Each cross is hand embroidered on the linen. The name of her fair trade business is Living Threads (www.livingthreadshaiti.com and the e-mail address is thread-salive@gmail.com). The women are paid a portion for each piece sold which allows them to make extra money in addition to their regular jobs.

The cost of the linens that we ordered is just under $700 and we are half-way to our goal. If anyone has an interest in donating to this fund, it is a designated fund for the Altar Guild.

These linens will be blessed at an upcoming service and placed into service at our Eucharist's.

ADULT FORUM NOVEMBER 1 & 8

November 1— Dismantle Racism. Courtney Schaefer and Chris Wagon currently serve on the Diocesan Commission on Dismantling Racism. This Commission will be offering their two day training at Emmanuel on January 16 and 17th. The training is free and childcare will be provided. This is the first time the Commission has offered this training on Saturday and Sunday and we expect many people from all over the Diocese to be here.

Their presentation will be an introduction to discussing and "developing a common language for discussions about race." We will watch a short video and discuss it in the context of a shared understanding.

November 8—Municipal Courts. Steve Jianakoplos (Rev. Melanie Slane's dad) was born and raised in Alton, Illinois. After graduating from Trinity College (Hartford, CT) and St. Louis University School of Law, he has engaged in the private practice of law in St. Louis for the last 40 years. He is a partner of the law firm Pulos, Blankenship, & Jianakoplos, P.C. with offices in Crestwood. Steve has also served part time as the prosecuting attorney for the City of Rock Hill for the last 32 years.

Steve will lead an adult forum discussion focusing on the purpose and structure of municipal courts, how they differ from state and federal courts, how fines and punishments are assessed and enforced, and recent changes in some procedures of municipal courts in Missouri.

NEW WEEK DAY BIBLE STUDY

All are welcome to come to a new Bible Study group that meets on Wednesday mornings at 10:30 in Room 214 (conference room by Martie's office). The focus is on books of the Bible which the members of the group choose to read, study, and discuss.

The group is studying St. Paul's letter to the Philippians and soon will be studying the book of Exodus. Led by members of the group, participants also use a study guide to facilitate discussion. If you have questions, call Laura McCord at 314.738.9139.

Vestry Vibes October 2015

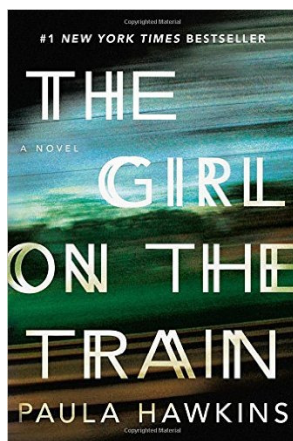

When I got the call to join Vestry last year, it wasn't exactly a call from above. I can't say, "The Lord called me to join Vestry." I would have to say, "Mary Lou McGuire called to see if I would agree to be on the slate for Vestry." The heavens didn't open for choirs of angels to sing down; I didn't hear God's voice whispering through the trees... none of that poetic stuff. Just a phone call.

I asked, "What do I have to offer Vestry?" I'm not a business person. I can sew a straight seam and I'm pretty good at parallel parking, but I don't see how those skills will translate. Why me? Did everybody else move?

At a recent Adult Forum, Tricia Copeland and Al Ludwig, this year's Stewardship Chairs, shared with us what it takes to run Emmanuel. It takes a whole lot of Time, Talent, and the ever-popular Treasure. They showed us how our money is divvied up. We learned how the clergy and staff divide their time. Tricia showed us a list of the approximately gazillion ways parishioners contribute their time and talent. (Pretty sure there were just about a gazillion things on that list.)

The point was made: We are all needed to make this place work, and we all bring different things to the table. We can't make it work with just money, or just showing up. We all need to share our personal skills and perspectives. I figured that since I've worked on various committees at Emmanuel over the years, maybe I can bring to Vestry a knowledge of how things work and the knowing of a whole lot of people.

And, by the way, though my parallel parking mastery has never been called into service, I have sewn a seam or two, back in the day of the summer musical. You just never know what you'll be called on to do around here. I hope you'll be ready if you get a call to help out in any of a gazillion possible ways. Better yet, why don't you call the Emmanuel office and offer to volunteer? Your unique offering are needed! Maryjane Hotaling

Emmanuel Women's Book Club meets on Monday evening, November 30 to discuss The Girl on the Train by Paula Hawkins. Amazon.com called it the "Best Book of the Month for January 2015," promoting it with this enticing review: Intersecting, overlapping, not-quite-what-they-seem lives. Jealousies and betrayals and wounded hearts. A haunting unease that clutches and won't let go. All this and more helps propel Paula Hawkins's addictive debut into a new stratum of the psychological thriller genre....From the opening line, the reader knows what they're in for: "She's buried beneath a silver birch tree, down towards the old train tracks..." But Hawkins teases out the mystery with a veteran's finesse. The "girl on the train" is Rachel, who commutes into London and back each day, rolling past the backyard of a happy-looking couple she names Jess and Jason. Then one day Rachel sees "Jess" kissing another man. The day after that, Jess goes missing....This is a book to be devoured.

Everyone is welcome to join us at 7:00 in the Dining Room ... not just our "regulars"! We will also select five books for our spring 2016 discussion that night, so come prepared to cheer on your favorites! Please feel free to invite friends, family, or other Emmanuelites to come with you and share our fellowship and light refreshments. If you have questions or wish to be added to the Book Club email list, please contact Ann McReynolds at 960-0560 or ARMcR@arm-mra.com.

STL SYMPHONY

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

We invite you to join us on Thursday, November 19 at 7 p.m. for a program of new music by living composers presented by a string quartet from the St. Louis Symphony. These living composers will have full orchestra pieces performed at Powell Hall.

We will have a very special speaker for this concert! Composer Samuel Adams will be with us to talk about the string quartet he wrote that references one of Josef Haydn's string quartets. Sam will walk the audience through some performance demonstrations of the two string quartets, and then the musicians will perform both the Haydn and Adams quartets in their entirety. It is a wonderful concert experience. Adams will be in town the week of November 15 when his piece Radial Play will be featured in concert at Powell Hall.

STL Symphony musicians Ann Fink and Helen Kim, violins, Chris Tantillo, viola, and Bjorn Ranheim, cello, perform music for string quartet by Joseph Haydn whose Op. 77, No. 1 string quartet influenced living composer Samuel Adams' String Quartet No. 1 at this Nov. 19th concert.

The Caring Ministries Committee is offering the 6th annual

Parish Communications Survey

Over the past several months, a sub-committee of the vestry has examined the methods Emmanuel uses to communicate information to the parish and ways parishioners can interact and respond. The committee felt that it was important to ask how you feel about some of these methods (e.g., the Angelus, eBlasts, hard copy, email, text messages, etc.). A very short survey will be available through Thanksgiving for your responses, both as a hard copy (ushers in church or at Adult Forum) or via Survey Monkey.

The web address of the survey is: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/EmmanuelCommunications>

We hope you will participate in this very important step to help us communicate as effectively as possible with each other.
