Who Is Knocking At Our Door?

Recently, I was reading in a new book of meditations, and I came across a startling anecdote about the poet and short-story writer, Dorothy Parker. I remembered that she was a real curmudgeon with a sharp wit. Evidently, she had a well-known habit of always answering the telephone by saying, “What fresh hell is this?” I must admit that in the last several months I have felt that way whenever I turned on television and was confronted by one horrible political attack ad after another, I felt like I was being flooded with more and more “fresh hell.” I got very adept at using the mute button on the remote control. Thank God those attack ads are over. Now, I know that many of you felt that you experienced a huge round of “fresh hell” on Tuesday evening. But, had the results gone the other way, another group of you would have felt the same way. I have been amazed at how deep the anger and sorrow, the sadness and depression have been for many. Some have even gone so far as saying that they have experienced an “apocalyptic moment.” Apocalyptic is a fancy word a total or universal disaster. If a meteor hit earth, that would be an apocalyptic moment. When the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, that was an apocalyptic moment. It can also refer to personal events that drastically change our lives, such as the loss of a loved one. The word is also used for a type of literature and a popular form of movies about the end of the world or about invasion by zombies. But, it also happens to be an important part of the Bible, and today’s gospel reading is just such an example.

Some disciples are admiring the huge stones used in the construction of the Temple. Jesus warns them that the time is coming when the Temple will be destroyed. This will be preceded by wars and insurrections, by great earthquakes, famines and plagues. When will this happen? They ask. When they begin to be persecuted and expelled from the synagogues and even their families, because of their faith in him.

Well, thank God we have not experienced all of those horrors here, but watching what has been happening around the world, all of those signs have been happening to Christians, as wells as others. When we look at the apocalyptic horrors happening in Iraq and Syria and South Sudan, we can see this prophecy being fulfilled in our own times. So, even in the depths of our distress about our political process, it is nothing like the horrendous civil wars and devastating natural disasters happening elsewhere. Now, that is not to discount the pain of economic and social dislocation that has been going on in much of our country or the rising destructiveness due to climate change. In the end, however, we have so much to be thankful for that we have an important obligation to be of assistance to those in areas of war and natural disasters. Reaching out to refugees in our midst and elsewhere is something we can actually do.

In that same meditation I mentioned at the beginning of my remarks there is a second and very different response to the unknown caller. In the Rule of St. Benedict one of the most important people in the monastery is the porter or doorkeeper. St. Benedict places a very high value on the ministry of hospitality. The monasteries were the only place that travelers could safely stop when they were on the road. The porters are instructed to go to the door and shout out “Thanks be to God! A blessing please!” That is before they even opened the door to meet the person knocking! It doesn’t matter who they are. It doesn’t matter whether they are rich or poor, Christian or not. They are to be treated as honored guests, even as Christ himself. Whatever their needs are the monks are to meet them, if possible. That form of radical hospitality did much in medieval times to model what they believed to be life of Jesus. It was their practical way of sharing their faith. It is something we are trying to recover today.

How radically different that is than responding to a knock or phone call by shouting “what fresh hell is this?!” It is putting into practice Jesus’ advice to the disciples: don’t worry about putting together a speech about your Christian faith. Jesus through the Holy Spirit will give us the words to say that are appropriate to the situation we are in. Our Presiding Bishop, Michael Curry, is constantly reminding us that we need always to remember that meeting the needs of others is our grateful response to what God has already and is now doing for us in Jesus Christ. Somehow we will be given natural and appropriate words to tag our hospitable actions as being rooted in our life of faith in Jesus.

I think that it is a great understatement to say that we are in a time of great change. People are angry about so many of the changes, but yet we demand even more change! The pathway ahead is unclear and will take a serious commitment on our part to work with those whose views are different from ours to discern God’s will for our common future. That is why our churches and our Christian fellowship are more important than ever before. That is where we are being called on and equipped to model in our own times the kind of Christ-like openness that St. Benedict was speaking about. Who knows who is knocking at our door? They just might be the great blessing we have been waiting for!

Uncertain times call for us to reach down into ourselves to deeper levels of our faith. In that regard, let me share one of my favorite memories of reading about an inscription on an English gravestone, written just after the terrible English Civil War. The king and the archbishop of Canterbury had been executed. The bishops and the Book of Common Prayer had been outlawed. Cromwell’s troops were busy destroying much of what was beautiful in English churches. The apocalypse had arrived for the Church of England. So, here is what inscription said:

In the year 1653 when all things sacred were throughout the nation either demolished or profaned Sir Robert Shirley, baronet, founded this church (his) singular praise it is to have done the best things in the worst time, and hope them in the most calamitous.

So my friends, whether you are among those who feel that the last eight years were the worst of times or you are among those who feel that we are now headed into the worst of times, it is good for us to remember that inscription: he did the best of things in the worst of times. He did it by reaching deep down into his faith and founding a church. Now, we don’t need to found a new church, but rather we need to rejoice in Emmanuel’s 150 years of service to God and to provide for its future. We need to remember that Emmanuel has been here for us in the best and worst of times. Our life here together serves to remind us that in whatever times await us, Christ reigns. It is here that we experience his love, binding us together in ways that transcend all our differences. It is here that we are being equipped to carry Christ’s healing love out into a world badly needing it. It is because of our gratitude for his love that we can be and are joyful: joyful in our worship, joyful in our service to those in need, joyful in our fellowship with each other, and, finally, joyful in our giving to support Christ’s work in this place. AMEN.

Rector Search Committee Update

The Discernment Team (formerly the Rector Search Committee) met on Sunday, October 24, for its initial meeting under the guidance of the Rev. Canon Joe Chambers and Interim Rector Doris Westfall. During the meeting, Rev. Chambers outlined the diocesan process currently in place for parishes engaged in the search process. In broad terms, the process falls into four steps: a discernment time for the committee; a discernment time for the parish; a time to review potential candidates; and a time of active interviews/visits. This process will take time, but it's important that the parish fully engage in each part in order to be successful.

The team continued its discernment work with an evening workshop on Thursday, November 10, and will participate in a full retreat on Saturday, December 10. The parish's discernment work will begin early in 2017 and will include a survey conducted by a diocesan-recommended agency as well as face-to-face meetings in Adult Forum and small groups.

— Celebrating 150 Years —

— 1867 to 2017 —

By now you've heard.....

One of the committees for Emmanuel's 150th Birthday celebration is the "Future" Committee. The goal of this committee is to enhance the safety, lighting and signage of our exterior property and provide a "gift" to the community. The committee has come up with several ideas on signage, lighting, accessibility as well as adding a labyrinth and enhancing the apple orchard. The committee has three more opportunities for you to learn about the ideas afloat and provide your feedback.

We hope you will join them one of the dates/times below in the Behold Room on the Second Floor.

Wednesday November 16 at 6:30 pm

Sunday November 20 at 11:45 am

Sunday November 27 at 5:00 pm

Thank you...we look forward to seeing you!

ADVENT SOUP SUPPER and GIVING TREE

Ah...the Sunday after Thanksgiving. Company is gone, kids are whining because they have to go back to school, you dragged out the holiday decorations (maybe?) just as everyone seems to vanish, and then, someone says "what's for dinner"? Just before you melt into a puddle on the floor you remember! Free dinner at Emmanuel tonight!

That's right. Sunday, November 27 at 6:00 p.m. we will have Soup Supper! The Jr. High kids will set-up and serve the meal. And we will also have a real Christmas tree up in the dining room. Total Advent atmosphere!

The Christmas Tree is actually a giving tree. It will be filled with 'gift tag' ornaments that evening ready for anyone to take. Each gift tag will identify a gift and sometimes an age. You purchase the gift on the tag and return unwrapped, to the tree!. This year we will be collecting for:

Webster-Rock Hill Ministries Episcopal City Mission (kids in detention) Nurses for Newborns

The gifts need to be returned to Emmanuel by:

Webster-Rock Hill Ministries by Wednesday, December 7 (pick up is December 8)

Episcopal City Mission and Nurses for Newborns by Sunday, December 11 (wrapping is December 12)

Sr. High Youth Taking Orders for Pies

Sunday, November 20 is the LAST day to order homemade Thanksgiving pies Crafted by Sr. High Youth Group!

Pies are GUARANTEED to be as good or better than most of yours! AND for sure better than store bought! They will be baked with skill and perfection, and ready to pick up Wednesday, November 23!

November Ingathering is for Emmanuel Food Center

This is the only month we actually ask Emmanuelites for food donations and monetary donations for the Food Center.

Please bring your food or monetary donation to church

Thanksgiving Morning at 9:00 a.m. We will share this Thanksgiving service with Christ Lutheran. And we will bring donations to the altar in thanksgiving for all our gifts!

Shopping list of items the Food Center always needs:

Canned tuna or chicken	Canned pasta	Dry pasta or rice
Boxed macaroni and cheese	Canned vegetable	Canned fruit
Peanut butter	grape jelly	Canned soup
Bottles spaghetti sauce

And because it's the holidays if you want to bring in extras like pie filling, biscuit mix, detergent, diapers, shampoo or body soap, we'll add treats to the bags!

Upcoming Adult Forums
